REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

To the Selectmen :

GENTLEMEN : In the judgement of your committee the schools of the town in the past year have met all reasonable expectations. While some facts might be noticed regretfully, there are many more relating to the condition and progress of the several schools that must be regarded as highly gratifying and encouraging. The general deportment of the scholars has been excellent ; and for their fidelity and success the teachers are deserving of special commendation. No complaint or report of dissatisfaction has reached the ears of the Committee.

The town is to be congratulated on the manifestation of so great interest in the schools on the part of the inhabitants generally. At two of the recent annual examinations the number of visitors exceeded that of the scholars in attendance. If our schools are not all we could desire, they will, probably, compare favorably with the common schools in neighboring towns. In our efforts for their improvement, we would not, however, be unmindful of the fact, that in towns and cities not far distant from us are to be found schools greatly superior to ours—some of the best in the country, may we not say in the world. These will probably hold their advanced position in all improvements in methods of discipline and instruction. As the most direct way of securing to ourselves the benefit of their peculiar excellencies, of keeping teachers and scholars within the current of progress, your committee would suggest that the respective school districts require their teachers, under the direction of the Superintending and Prudential Committees, to make one visit or more annually to some of the best schools within a convenient distance, and that the Prudential Committees be instructed to pay the necessary expenses of such visitations, accompanied, perhaps, by some of their pupils—and this would be desirable—the teachers, on a summer's day, might go even so far as Boston before the school hour of the morning, and remaining through both sessions of the day, arrive at their home before the shades of evening. We cannot expect that all our teachers will come to us from Normal schools, or with years of experience in their work, or otherwise thoroughly qualified for their duties. Nor is it always practicable for teachers to attend the sessions of the Normal Institutes. Besides, it is believed that most teachers will learn more readily, and what will be far more helpful, by witnessing for a few hours the daily routine school drill under efficient, practical teachers, than in weeks' or months' attendance on lectures of ambitious educational theorists and hobby-riders.

There has been no change of teachers in any of the schools during the year. All are natives of the town, and of the districts respectively in which they have taught; and have boarded through the year with their parents at home.
